SOLDIERS WATCH INSURANCE PLAN

Question of Status of General Agent of Three Railroads Here is Raised in Circuit Court.

SUMMONS FOR SOUTHEASTERN

Attorney for Defendant Company Declares Agent Represents Only the Director-General.

Whether the general agent for the three railroads in this city is a representative of each individual company, or of Walker D. Hines, director-general, or of all of them, was a question that was raised in circuit court this morning in connection with a damage suit that was filed by Dora Gardiner, of this city, against the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southeastern Company. The alleged injuries which the plaintiff says the sustained were suffered by him while in the employ of the Southeastern Line before that system was taken over by the government. In order to get the case into court, therefore, it was necessary for the plaintiff to serve a summons on both the company and on Walker D. Hines, director-general, who is now in charge of the operation of the system and has control of the finances of the Southeastern Company.

The sheriff served the summons on Ed Massman, general agent for the three companies in this city. Under the old order of railroad affairs this was regarded as serving the summons on the company inasmuch as the agent is the representative of the company. Thomas Brooks, of Bedford representing the company, contended, however, that a summons on the general agent here did not serve as a summons on the Southeastern Company as it has been taken over by the government. It was agreed that the summons on Massman was a summons on Hines, and John M. Lewis, attorney for the plaintiff, contended that it was also a summons on the Southeastern Company.

Brooks argued that the Southeastern Company ceased to exist when the government took the property over and the officials who were in the employ of the company at that time became the employees of the government railroad administration. Mr. Massman was placed on the witness stand and testified that he turned over the money of the road to the former treasurer of the company who is now serving as treasurer of the company as a representative of the government. E. M. Jackson, an official in the employ of the Southeastern Line, also testified that all the affairs of the company were now under the supervision of the Hines administration. The question arose that if the agent is representing Hines how could a summons be served on the Southeastern Company. Brooks stated that he was the court to represent his company and that was a matter for the plaintiff's attorney to ascertain. Judge Cox took the matter under advisement.

Elizabeth Keith, aged thirty-six, who admitted late Friday in police court that she had set fire to a woodshed on the property owned by J. T. Himler, West Tipton street, was taken to Brownstown this morning and the case was filed in circuit court. Bond for such cases is fixed at $2,000 and in default of bail the woman was held in the county jail. She was unable to give bond following her preliminary hearing in the city court Friday afternoon and was held in the city jail over night. The fire in the barn amounted to practically no damage and was extinguished with a few buckets of water. Matches and paper were found in the shed, it is stated, and the evidence seemed to link the woman with the fire. After questioning she admitted that she had tried to set fire to the shed. In a signed statement she said she "did it just for meanness."

Circuit court will adjourn one week from today. It is not likely that any additional state cases will be called this term as Prosecutor Lowe has gone to Bedford to make arrangements for the next term of the Lawrence circuit court.

Local Men Who Have Returned From Service Interested in Proposed Forms of Policies.

SIX KINDS ARE OFFERED

Soldiers Will Have Five Years in Which to Decide if They Want to Make the Transfer.

Jackson county soldiers who carried government insurance policies under the war risk bureau's plan, are watching developments as to what offers will be made by the department for the conversion of policies for civilians. Under the present plan only men who carried war risk insurance will be permitted to take out policies to be carried by civilians but it is expected that there will be several features that will prove attractive. It is expected that the bureau will announce some time next month just what plan of insurance will be available to former soldiers. It is certain that the insurance department of the government will be continued and it is possible that later it may be extended so that any civilian may take advantage of it.

Soldiers who are holding war risk policies will have five years in which to decide if they want to convert it into another form of insurance. Six kinds of policies, it is stated, will be issued—ordinary life, twenty-payment life, thirty-payment life, twenty-year endowment, thirty-year endowment and an endowment policy that will mature at the age of sixty-two. The rate for the ordinary life, ranges from $13.59 at the age of twenty to $35.22 at the age of fifty years. The twenty-payment life ranges from $20.79 at twenty years to $41.34 for fifty years. The twenty year endowment begins at $39.10 at twenty years and the highest rate is $47.01 at fifty years. The thirty-year endowment ranges from $24.33 to $37.09.

The government has made extremely liberal provisions in regard to the payment of premiums and will permit the payment of the premiums on a month, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis. Grace of one month will be allowed on all payments, and the policies will contain liberal provisions for the reinstatement of the insured in the event that he permits his policy to lapse.

If the government should find that it is making a profit on its insurance, the profits will not go into the treasury, it is stated, but to the men who take out the insurance. Dividends will be declared annually, and the insured men may have the privilege of taking these dividends in cash, having them deducted from their premiums, or of leaving the money to accumulate with the government at compound interest. The policies provide that when their policies become paid up they participate in the dividends along with those policies which are still being paid on. If death should occur during the period for which an annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium has been paid, the government will remit the premium for all except the current month.

Hustedt, local undertaker, received a message this morning stating that William Ahlert, former councilman in this city, sustained fatal injuries Friday when he fell down an elevator shaft in Cincinnati. His death occurred Friday night the message stated. No other particulars were given. He was about sixty years of age and for many years conducted a bath house in this city. He served one term as councilman from the fifth ward.

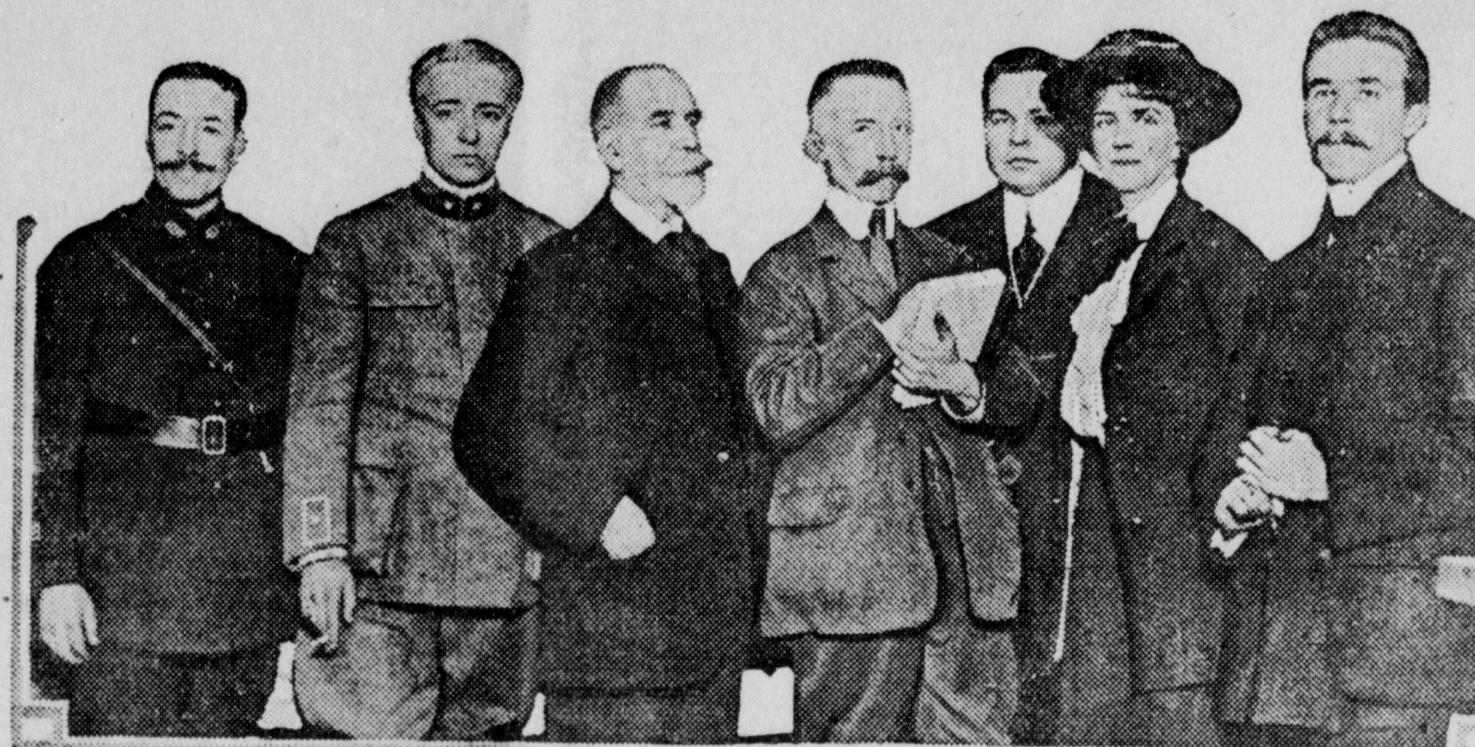

Mr. Ahlert is survived by a widow. The funeral will be held Monday morning at Cincinnati. The burial will take place at Cincinnati.

Internal Revenue Collectors Look For Those Who Have Been Convicted of Liquor Sales.

NEW DANGER FACES "TIGERS"

Persons Found Guilty of Having Liquor in Their Possession Not Subject to the Tax.

There was a time when bootleggers who were found guilty in local courts of liquor law violations could pay their fines and feel that the case was closed so far as they were concerned but that time has past and the greatest authority in the United States is holding a club over everyone who attempts to sell liquor in violation of the prohibition law. Uncle Sam is exercising his authority through the internal revenue collectors who have announced that bootleggers who were convicted since February 25, this year are subject to pay the $1,000 special war revenue tax. This ruling means that if a man is convicted in the city court in Seymour of violating the prohibition law, the federal revenue agents will be after

GIRL LEAVES NOTE TO PARENTS OF MARRIAGE

Miss Pearl Wetzel and Warren Cross Reported to be Married—Leave for Vincennes.

The parents of Miss Pearl Wetzel, East Third street, are said to have received a note addressed to them from the young lady, stating that she and Warren Cross had been married and would leave the city. It is said that Cross purchased two tickets for Vincennes on Thursday and that the couple left on a westbound train Thursday night.

The departure of Cross from the city has attracted some attention in view of the fact that he is under $500 bond for his appearance in circuit court for alleged implication in a recent robbery at the Hub clothing store here. It is not believed, however, that he is attempting to "jump" the bond and his friends feel certain that he will return in ample time to appear in court when his case is called. So far the case has not been set down for trial. So long as the young man is under cash bond he is at liberty to go where he may please just so long as he appears in court at the proper time.

SIX STRANGERS ORDERED TO DEPART FROM CITY

One Man Who Inquired About Auto Gets "Huffy" When Traction Car is Recommended.

Six strangers, several of whom were young men, drifted into the city Friday night, but as the police did not like their appearance they were given orders to depart. Four of the men claimed that they came here from Cincinnati in search of work, but Chief Abell didn't think that men would migrate in gangs from Cincinnati to Seymour in search of work and placed them in jail over night. When first seen the six men were together on a street corner indulging in the pastime of rolling cigarettes. It is said that there was a seventh member of the party, who asked a local citizen about hiring an automobile for a trip to Indianapolis. When the stranger was informed that the interurban ran direct into Indianapolis and recommended the traction car, the man became "huffy" and said he wanted the automobile. He disappeared during the evening. The others were held in jail until this morning when they were released and ordered to leave the city.

SEVERAL BRITISH STRIKE POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Miners Continue at Work Under Day to Day Agreement While Leaders Parley.

By United Press.

London, March 22—The miners strike, scheduled for today, which was to precipitate a sympathetic walk-out of railway and transport workers, paralyzing British industry, has been postponed indefinitely.

Under a day to day agreement the miners will continue at work while their representatives take up with the government proposed modifications of justice Sankey's report.

Sankey, who represented the government on the parliamentary commission investigating the mining situation recommended concessions to the miners regarding wages and hours but suggested that the commission continue investigating nationalization of the mines, reporting in May.

The miners' report flatly favored nationalization, while the owners were unanimously opposed. The executive committee of the miners which adjourned to March 26 decided to defer the strike after Andrew Bonar Law, government spokesman in commons, again assured them that the ministry favored the Sankey report.

The departure of Cross from the city has attracted some attention in view of the fact that he is under $500 bond for his appearance in circuit court for alleged implication in a recent robbery at the Hub clothing store here. It is not believed, however, that he is attempting to "jump" the bond and his friends feel certain that he will return in ample time to appear in court when his case is called. Adams of Kansas City, was appointed to supersede the Mackey group. Burleson stated that the Mackey group "had failed to carry out the orders and instructions of the postmaster general." ## WILSON TO CARRY FIGHT TO PEOPLE

President Looking Toward Ratification of Treaty by the American Senate.

MAY "STUMP" THE COUNTRY

Department Finances Receiving His Attention—Expected to Return About May 15.

By United Press.

Paris, March 22—President Wilson is prepared to make a strong fight to compel the senate to ratify the preliminary peace treaty containing the league of nations, his intimates declared today.

Press reports that certain senators will attempt to separate the league from treaty brought out the statement that "Wilson is a good fighter."

Asked whether, as previously intimated to the United Press, the president is ready to stump the country if it seems necessary, a person close in his confidence said that was "a good guess."

The president is represented as ready to carry his fight to the people, after which if his stand is endorsed, he will tell the senate it must accept or reject the treaty as it stands, leaving the responsibility for rejection wholly up to that body. Experts say the treaty, when completed, will be indivisible, and that the league must be considered an integral part.

Wilson is giving considerable attention to departmental finances but has not yet reached any conclusion. It has been foreseen that some government branches will encounter difficulty after May, but the president is unable to give any more from the emergency appropriation. While the president has not confided to any one his ideas concerning an extra session of congress, persons close to him said today it is likely he will return home by May 15 or earlier.

TRIAL OF DR. WILKINS MAY BEGIN IN ABOUT SIX WEEKS

Doctor Charged With Murder of Wife, Denies There is "Another Woman" in Case.

By United Press.

Mineola, N. Y., March 22—Trial of W. K. Wilkins on a charge of wife murder will probably begin within six weeks, it was learned today. Wilkins is most anxious for an early hearing. He is accused of beating his wife to death with a hammer at their Long Beach home February 27 and then fabricating a story of burglars having committed the crime.

Wilkins, who is 64 years old, called in the reporters and issued a statement denying that there was another woman in the case as a possible motive. He said the insinuation that an actress had "something to do with it was a cruel lie."

MILITARY, NAVAL AND AERIAL TERMS FIXED BY ALLIES

Conditions Made Public Which Are Intended to Render Germany Militarily Impotent.

ARMY IS LIMITED TO 100,000

Maximum of Seven Divisions of Infantry and Three of Cavalry Allowed Under Terms.

RATIONING OF AMMUNITION

Allies Reserve Control of Location of Munitions Depots and of All Land Fortifications.

(By Ed L. Keen, United Press Staff Correspondent. Copyright 1919 by The United Press).

Paris, March 22—The extent to which Germany will be rendered militarily impotent by the impending peace terms was fully revealed for the first time today in information obtained by the United Press from authoritative sources. The military, naval and aerial terms of the treaty as finally agreed to by the supreme war council, are, according to the best information obtainable, as follows:

Military—Germany to be allowed a maximum of seven divisions of infantry and three of cavalry, totalling 100,000 men of which officers must not exceed 4,000.

Officers employed in the war ministries of the various states must not exceed 300, while civilian employees of the war administration will be limited to ten percent of the schedule for 1913.

The great general staff war school and similar institutions will be abolished. One military school will be permitted for each branch of the service and will be used solely for training officers. So-called veterans' societies, tourist clubs, and other organizations indulging in military exercises will be prohibited. All fortified work within fifty miles of the Rhine will be destroyed. Construction of new work in this region is forbidden. Retention of the existing fortification on the eastern and southern frontiers is permitted.

Stocks of ammunition will be stringently rationed. Depots where they are held must be made known to the allies who reserve the right to limit the number of munition works.

All war material above the requirements fixed will be surrendered to the allies by whom it will be destroyed. Imports and exports of war material including asphyxiating gases armored cars, tanks, etc., are forbidden in the future.

Navy—The German fleet will be limited to six battleships of the Deutschland type, six light cruisers, twelve destroyers and twelve torpedo boats. In replacing the fleet units, new vessels will not exceed 10,000 tons for armored ships, 6,000 tons for light cruisers 800 tons for destroyers and 200 tons for torpedo boats.

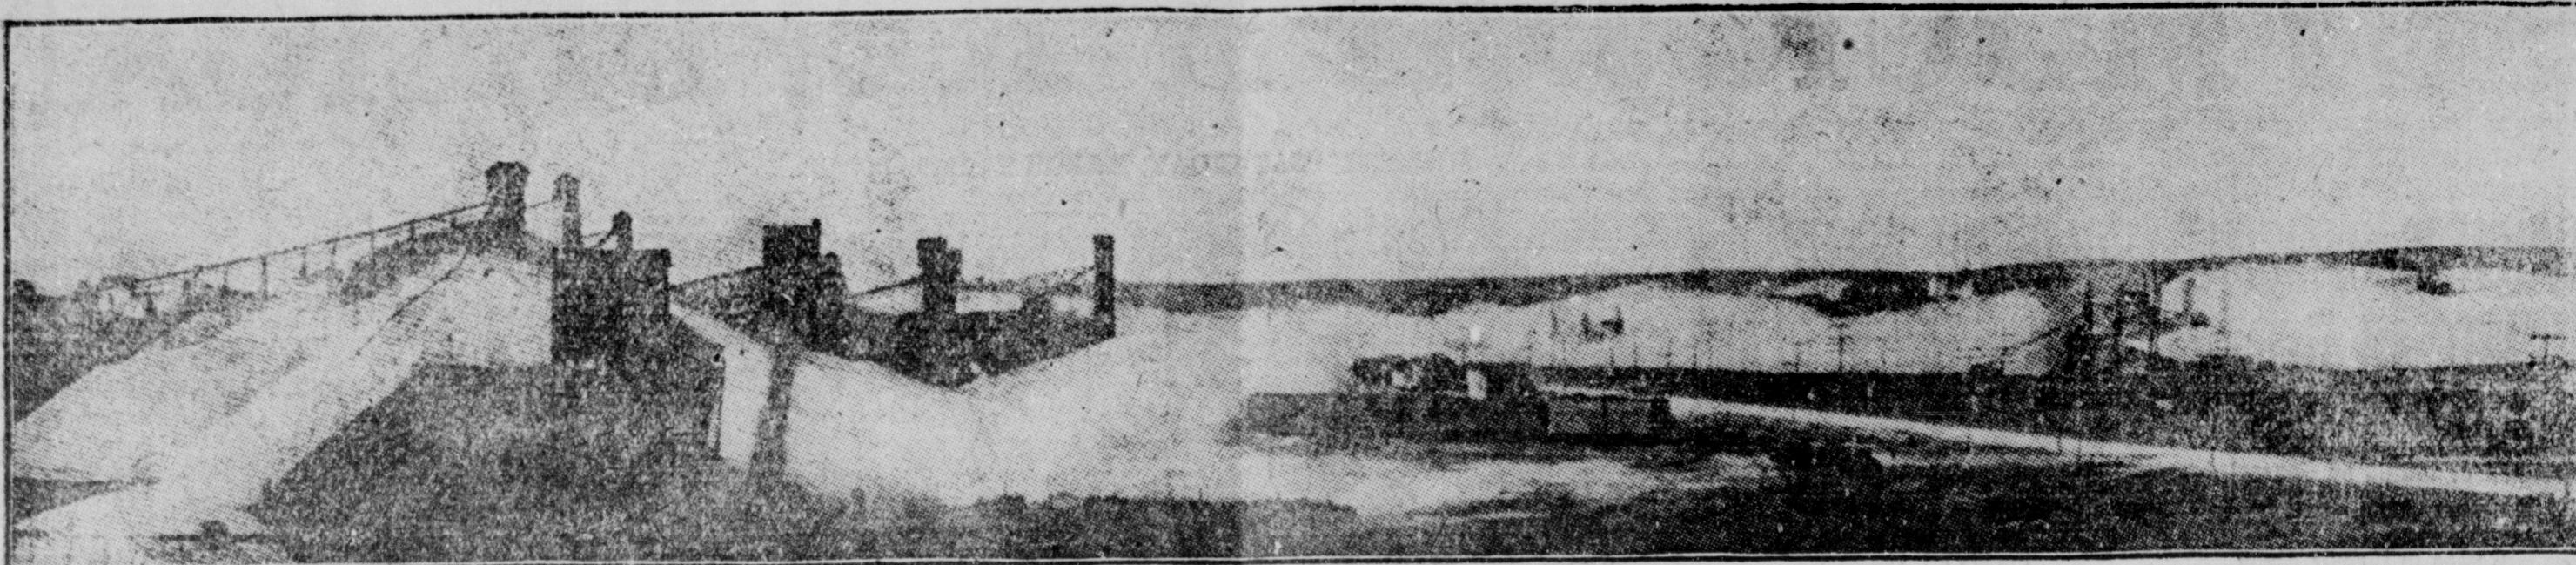

(The newest type of American battleship displaces 43,000 tons and carries twelve 16-inch guns.) Light cruisers now building displace 8,000 tons and the latest type of destroyer displaces about 2,000 tons.)

Except when ships are lost, no battleship or cruiser may be replaced until it is twenty years old. Destroyers and torpedo boats must be fifteen years old.

The personnel of the navy will be limited to 15,000 including 1,500 officers.

The warships now being constructed will be broken up under super-

Repeating A Pronounced Success

The unqualified success and splendid prospects of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate, composed almost entirely of Louisville men, has led to the formation of another company, headed largely by the same gentlemen, for the purpose of further development of additional holdings.

The first company was composed of T. M. Crutcher, President; N. C. Cureton, Secretary, and W. E. Newbold, Treasurer, with the following directors: T. M. Crutcher, Neil Wilson Funk, William Phillips, N. C. Cureton, M. N. Cralle, Charles A. Funk, T. T. Beeler, G. W. Scott, with Hon. E. J. McDermott as attorney.

The Capital Stock was placed at $100,000 and is owned almost entirely by Louisville men and those of nearby towns.

This stock paid 2% in January and 3% in February. A list of these stockholders has been printed and can be obtained on application to the company so that this statement may be readily verified either by mail or telephone.

The Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company has just been organized with T. M. Crutcher, President; T. T. Beeler, Vice President; N. C. Cureton, Secretary; W. E. Newbold, Treasurer, and with the following Directors: J. C. Mahon, T. M. Crutcher, N. C. Cureton, T. T. Beeler and W. E. Newbold.

The Capital Stock is $500,000 with shares at $1.00 each, fully paid and non-assessable; $200,000 of this stock has already been taken up, but the rest will be offered immediately to those desiring a very profitable and safe investment.

The Mansfield District

The mineral wealth of the Missouri district is abundantly shown in the birdseye view at the top of this page. Mines and smelters paying prodigious profits are to be seen on every hand.

The reason lies in the fact that there is to be found the richest and purest ore deposit in the entire region.

In fact, the State of Missouri is the largest lead and zinc producing State, producing 32% of the output in the entire United States.

It is the theory of geologists that this point, Mansfield, on the highest ridge of the Ozarks, marks the spot of a prehistoric volcano which deposited this vast store of mineral wealth by an eruption.

At any rate, it is there and is being mined and smelted at tremendous profits.

It is an absolute fact that T. T. Beeler refused last Friday an offer of $50,000 cash for forty acres of their holdings immediately adjoining the first mill. This is the forty acres north of the spot where the new company is to be located. Immediately adjoining is the Red Bird lead and zinc mine of W. E. Caldwell (of Louisville). Very rich ore was found in this mine at a depth of only thirty-five feet.

Profits in Lead and Zinc

When you buy stock in a lead and zinc mine you are not taking chances or buying a "pig in a poke," but you see what you are getting. The property is proven by drills, and you absolutely know that the mineral is there in vast quantities before mining is commenced.

A striking example of the success of the mills is the Eagle Pitcher Co. This company made forty millions of dollars in the past five years.

Five years ago this district was an empty prairie—today there are several hundred mills in successful operation and one acre of this land has produced a million dollars in ore.

HISTORIC WEIMAR DOESN'T LIKE UPHEAVER

Quiet Little German City Does Not Want to Become The Capitol.

By United Press.

Weimar, March 22—Quiet, sleepy Weimar doesn't like being capital of Germany, and doesn't want to be the permanent capital of Germany be the seat of the constituent assembly which founded the new German republic. Weimar was more than willing to let some other town have the honor.

When it was definitely decided the assembly should be at Weimar, the inhabitants of the clean, pretty little city, bent every effort to make guests feel comfortable, but they viewed the meeting with apprehension. It brought too much excitement to Weimar.

Weimar is probably the most cultured city of its size in the world. It exists because it was the home of Goethe and Schiller, and the population lives on the atmosphere of classic German. It is the home of writers and playwrights, and supports one of the best groups of dramatic artists in its beautiful theater.

Weimar wants to be let alone to its culture and plays and music, according to the inhabitants, who are praying that the assembly will place the permanent capital of Germany elsewhere.

During the war, when the rest of Germany rapidly disintegrated, cultured Weimar kept most of its old habits. Shop window by dozens are filled with classic books and pictures on literature of England and France quite as much as Germany.

Treaties on universal peace, and against war of any kind stayed in their places on book-shop shelves in Weimar, while the rest of the world stowed them temporarily in cellars. Shakespeare's picture is in art store windows with Goethe's and Schiller's and Shakespearean plays, as well as classics from any language were played continually in the Weimar theater.

With their interests centered entirely on things cultural rather than political, and with their minds filled with the best from the past rather than social and political prospects of the future, folks in Weimar viewed with apprehension the installation of dozens of telephones in the theater, the filling of the high school with telegraph instruments and typewriters for the press, and the arrival of soldiers and policemen to guard against political uprisings.

The beautiful old Saxon castle was taken over by the government, and packed full of people, where it had formerly been almost deserted always. The snow blanket that covered Weimar was continually stirred up by the ten per cent increase in population, said ten per cent being active people, always busily hurrying around, and that too made Weimar seem unrestful and uneasy.

Fortunately, Weimar has always been accustomed to visitors and has many of them, who come to render homage to Goethe and Schiller and get a glimpse of the classic German which the world liked years ago before commercial imperialistic Prussianism overwhelmed the country.

There are more than fifty hotels in Weimar, and these were quickly packed. The city government took charge of the room and food situation and assigned everyone a place to sleep and eat on his arrival from the outer world.

This was another thing Weimar disliked. It was used to tourists who were mostly scholars and who came to town knowing most of its secrets, and who quietly went to hotels and created no excitement, and were content and glad to roam around and not bother anyone.

The excitement of it all is too much for Weimar, most cultured of towns.

A big business was done yesterday at the first day of the special shoe sale that is made by P. Colabuono. A crowd of people were waiting around the doors before the store was opened for business. The store was crowded most of the day Friday and the steady business has continued today.

GRAIN RESERVE IN STATE IS FAR BELOW AVERAGE

Thirty-four Percent of Corn Crop, or 57,642,000 Bushels Remain on Farm.

Washington, March 22—The department of agriculture in its crop review for March says that 10 per cent, or 4,926,000 bushels of last year's Indiana wheat crop is still held by the farmers; that 34 per cent of the corn crop, or 57,642,000 bushels, is still on the farm, and that 20 per cent of the barley crop, or 333,000 bushels, is still being held. The ten-year average of wheat on the farm for Indiana at this time in the year is 19 per cent; of oats, 30 per cent; of corn, 39 per cent, and of barley, 22 per cent.

According to the department 4,448,000 bushels of wheat are held by the country mills and elevators in the state. Last year at this time these holdings aggregated 2,340,000 bushels.

Farm land values on the state, the department says, have shown a marked advance in the last three years. The average value of plow lands in the state is fixed at $100 for 1919. For 1918 it was $96.50; for 1917 $84.00, and for 1916, $84.

WIDELY KNOWN FARMER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

J. H. Bettenbrock Passes Away Friday Night at His Home Southwest of This City.

J. H. Bettenbrock, aged seventy years, a widely known farmer, died at 6:30 o'clock Friday night at his home southwest of the city. He had been in declining health for several months. During the holidays he underwent an operation at the Schneck Memorial Hospital. His death was due to a complication of diseases.

Mr. Bettenbrock was born in Dearborn county July 7, 1848, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bettenbrock. When he was seven years old his parents moved from Dearborn county to Jackson county and settled in the vicinity of Dudleytown. A few years later the family moved to what is now known as the Stahl farm, near Farmington, and Mr. Bettenbrock lived there until he was about thirty years of age. He then purchased his present home place three-fourths of a mile west of the White school, and lived there continuously until his death.

Mr. Bettenbrock was married about forty years ago to Miss Wilhelmina Krone and to them five children were born, four of whom are living: John, Anna, Elmer and Louise, all at home. He also leaves his widow and a sister, Mrs. George Stahl.

Mr. Bettenbrock served two terms as a member of the county council and maintained an active interest in county affairs. He was very successful as a farmer and was interested in the progressive agricultural methods. He was a member of the Lutheran church and served in an official capacity for many years.

The funeral will be held at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon from the residence and at 1:45 o'clock from the Lutheran church, with the Rev. E. H. Eggers, minister, officiating.

Burial at the Lutheran cemetery.

THE SCOUT SIGN.

The position of the hand just described, under the scout oath, is the scout sign. The three fingers held up remind him of his three promises in the scout oath.

THE SCOUT SALUTE.

When the three fingers thus held are raised to the forehead, it is the scout salute.

The scout always salutes a scout official.

OUR SOLDIER DEAD.

"In Flanders fields, where poppies blow,
In Flanders fields where beautiful roses grow,
There let them rest—forever sleep,
While we eternal vigil keep
With our heart's love—with our soul's prayer."
For all our fallen "Over There."

The sounding sea between us rolls
And in perpetual requiem tolls—
Three thousand miles of cheerless space
Lie 'twixt us and their resting place;
'Twas God who took them by the hand
And left them in the stranger land.

The earth is sacred where they fell—
Forever on it lies the spell
Of hero deeds in Freedom's cause,
And men unborn shall come and pause
To say a prayer, or bow the head,
So leave these graves to hold their dead.

Let not our sighing nor our tears
Fall on them through the coming years,
Who on the land, on sea, in air,
With dauntless courage everywhere,
Their homes and country glorified—
Stood to their arms, and smiling died.

Great France will leave no need nor room
That we place flowers on their tomb—
And proudly o'er their resting place,
Will float forever in its grace,
O'er cross, and star, and symbol tag,
Their own beloved country's flag.

The morning sun will gild with light,
The stars keep holy watch at night,
The winter spread soft pall of snow,
The summer flowers about them grow,
The sweet birds sing their springtime call,
God's love and mercy guard them all.

Annette Kohn, in New York Times.

THREE.

How dull the night communiqué:
"This sector had a quiet day."

A quiet day—they only made
A little, undecisive raid;

But when the smoke had cleared away
In No Man's Land three still forms lay.

One gave for Freedom, love and life,
Say what she gave, his heart-wrung wife!

The second, who'd a failure seemed,
In death his faults of life redeemed.

The third was born to bless with song
The world that did him this great wrong.

If they in vain were sacrificed,
There is no virtue in a Christ.

—Edward N. Teall.

REDUCTIONS IN LUMBER ARE TO COME SHORTLY

Federal Industrial Board Calls Representatives of Industry to Discuss Schedules.

By United Press

Washington, March 22—Lumber, next to steel as a basic building material, is to come under the price cutting knife today.

Representatives of the lumber industry, together with the industrial board, are planning to lower price schedules in much the same fashion as the steel men. The lumber market has shown as much stagnation as the steel, because of the inactivity in building and the representatives have assured the board they are anxious to fix schedules that will put in motion vast building projects now being held up.

The substantial slash in steel prices is taken by trade experts as indicative of the reductions that must come in other lines.

But John H. Kirby, head of the lumber men's delegation, has told the board he realizes reductions must be made and that the industry is willing to make all adjustments possible.

Committee Meets With Governor to Outline Plans for Great Home Coming.

Indianapolis, March 22—Every county in Indiana will join in the "Victory Day" celebration for returned Hoosier soldiers in May, it was announced today. An executive committee, composed of representatives from each of the ninety-two counties, will make arrangements for the homecoming. The committee will be appointed in a few days by Adjutant General Smith.

While the celebration will center around the 150 Field Artillery regiment of the Rainbow division, it will be for all returned Indiana soldiers. The plans were discussed at a conference held at the office of Governor Goodrich. Following the meeting a telegram was sent to Secretary Baker and also to Senators New and Wastrom and asking that this regiment be mustered out at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Will Their Happiness Continue
After You're Gone?

Only three men out of one hundred leave their families enough to live on, according to the court records. That is, as much as $10,000.

Eighteen men out of every 100 leave a home but no income to their families.

And out of every 100 married men who die, 35 of them do not leave a dollar of property to their wives or children.

A few men are unfortunate—many more are improvident.

It does not take a great amount for a man to get in the first class—those leaving $10,000—the saving of $3 a week from the time a man is 25 until he is 55 will do it.

But whatever you do, get out of the class that leaves the wife and little ones without a dollar. Start a savings account at the Jackson County Loan and Trust Co. and you will soon be well on the road, so that you need not fear for the future.

"Tuning Up" The Motor

YOU have noticed, of course, that there is a big difference in the way that automobiles run. Some of them get over the ground, but the motor "misses" and the power is unsteady and jerky. The driver never knows just how his car is going to behave.

Then there are other cars that fairly "skim" over the roads with the soft, purring of the motor. You have noticed that such cars respond promptly and easily to the touch of the driver. There is always plenty of power for speed and hills.

The difference in the machines is the way they are adjusted.

Our mechanical experts know just what your car needs so that it will run with the responsive, purring sound.

Mr. A. H. Wagner, who served the government as a motor expert during the war, is at the head of our mechanical department. He has a personal knowledge of all makes of cars and can tell you just what is wrong with your machine.

On March 24 we will have two new mechanics so that your work can be done promptly. Bring your cars around and let us inspect them for you.

Slight damage was done to a few of the small culverts in various parts of the county.

Several lines of the specially advertised shoes at Dehler's were depleted within a few hours after the sale opened yesterday morning. The store was crowded with customers throughout the day and enjoyed a splendid business again today. A number of additional clerks have been employed to meet the demands of the many customers.

Mrs. R. G. Haas will soon move her millinery store from the Burkart building on East Second street to the vacant room on the opposite side of the street, just east of Gates' store. Dr. Haas will occupy the front room on the second floor with his dental parlors.

BOOTLEGERS TO PAY REVENUE TAX

him at once to collect the $1,000 revenue provided by the federal law. While there has always been a good profit in bootlegging whiskey, the new danger will remove part of the profits and the violator will in addition face the federal court, if he does not settle forthwith.

Peter J. Kruyer, internal revenue collector for Indiana, states that liquor seized from violators of the prohibition law is not subject to the revenue tax unless it is put up for sale. His announcement follows receipt of a telegram direct from the department in Washington which was in reply to questions asked by Kruyer.

The internal revenue collector also holds that the special war tax cannot be collected from persons who have been found guilty of having liquor in their possession, when it can be shown beyond all doubt that such liquor is not held for purposes of sale. Kruyer said he would start at once to collect all taxes due from bootleggers who have been convicted since February 25, the date when the new revenue measure became a law.

Although it has been generally understood that the tax cannot be collected upon whiskey and other intoxicating liquors which have been confiscated under due process of law and are held by city and county authorities, Kruyer apparently is not entirely clear on the subject as he has asked for a specific ruling from the department in Washington.

Under the Indiana law, the police officer or sheriff who confiscates the liquor from an alleged bootlegger cannot destroy it except by order of the court. This liquor is usually held by the officials as evidence in the case. It appears that it would be an injustice to the officials to hold them responsible for the tax on such liquor of which they take possession, not as individuals but as representatives of the state, and it is feared that a ruling holding them liable for the tax might cause them to hesitate to take possession of such liquor in case they found it. Many police officers are much interested in what the final ruling will be. However the department has held in the past that only such liquor that is held for sale is subject to the revenue tax and it is likely that this theory will be applied in reference to the police officers holding confiscated liquor.

A volunteer cornstalk—without planting or cultivation or urging of other kind—sprang up last spring in the garden of Margaret Schaffer, a garden club member, in Lineo, Neb. It was one of the springs when every American was doing his all for his country.

"I heard a clear call—it was for volunteers," said the cornstalk, speaking in the story of her garden that Margaret wrote and sent to the United States Department of Agriculture at the end of the gardening season. "So I at once volunteered to grow up in Margaret's garden.

"I never felt that I was welcome for she did not give me much attention. Nevertheless, I grew to be a tall, stately cornstalk. I could overlook the whole garden. Many are the lessons I learned.

SAVED BY A FAITHFUL WIFE

Suffered Thirty Years With Stomach Trouble and Hemorrhages of the Bowels.

The Story of a Wonderful Recovery

There is hardly any one who does not experience some trouble with the stomach. It is so common that we frequently pay little or no attention to it. Yet, the stomach is very easily upset, and catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining develops, grows worse—the pain and distress is incessant and the truth dawns that we have chronic stomach trouble.

The case of Mr. Louis Young, 205 Merriman St., Rochester, N. Y., is typical. He writes: "I suffered for thirty years with chronic bowel trouble, stomach trouble and hemorrhages of the bowels. We bought a bottle of Peruna and I took it faithfully. I began to feel better. My wife persuaded me to continue and I did for some time as directed. Now I am a well man." Mr. Young's experience is not unusual.

If you suffer from catarrh in any form, whether of the head, stomach, bowels or any other part of the body, try Peruna. It may be just what you need. Peruna comes in either liquid or tablet form and is sold everywhere. Your dealer has it or will get it for you. Ask for Dr. Hartman's World-Famous Peruna Tonic and insist upon having it. If you want your health accept nothing else.

All the sick and suffering are invited to write The Peruna Company, Dept. 78, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free and may help you. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac.

CHAPTER XX.

A Soft Nook.

Innes traveled, gleefully, in a caboose, from Hamlin Junction to the Heading. She could not stay away a day longer! Never before had Los Angeles been a discipline. Why had it freed her, made her restless, homesick? Then she had discovered the reason; history was going on down yonder. Going on, without her. She knew that that was what was pulling her; that only!

The exodus of engineers had started riverward in July. Gerty went with Tom, and she had made it distinctly clear that it was not necessary for Innes to follow them. Ridiculous for two women to coddle a Tom Hardin! Unless Innes had a special interest!

Her pride had kept her away. But Tom did not write; Gerty's letters were social and unsatisfactory; the newspaper reports inflamed her. The day before she had wired Tom that she was coming. She had to be there at the end!

Gerty welcomed her stiffly. Assuming a conscientious hostess-ship, she caught fire at her waning enthusiasms.

Gerty looked younger and prettier.

Her flush accentuated her childish features which were smiling down her annoyance over this uninvited visit.

"We have all the home comforts, haven't we? Why shouldn't we be comfortable when we are to be here for months? I'm going to brave it out—to the bitter end, even if I bake. It is my duty—" She would make her intention perfectly clear! "There ought to be at least one cozy place, one soft nook that suggests a woman's presence. We have tea here in the afternoon, sometimes. Mr. Rickard drops in." The last was a delicate stroke.

"Afternoon tea? At the Front? Is this modern warfare?" The girl draped her irony with a smile.

Gerty was stealing a pleased survey

BOWEL GAS CROWDED HER LUNGS AND HEART

Mrs. Wilbur Could Hardly Breathe—Stomach Trouble All Gone Now.

"A year ago I had such a bad case of stomach trouble that at times it was hard to keep life in me. So much gas gathered that it crowded my lungs and heart and I could hardly get my breath. I had a good doctor all winter, but got no relief. I coughed most all the time and got so thin and weak I could scarcely walk."

"I commenced taking Milks Emulsion on April 11. In 48 hours all pain had left me and I could eat a little and sleep. Then I commenced to gain in strength and appetite and flesh. I am convinced that Milks Emulsion saved my life."

Mrs. Wilbur is only one of thousands who have promptly rid themselves of stomach torture by using Milks Emulsion. It is guaranteed, and costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, driving away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by C. E. Loertz.

In the mirror through the rough door that opened into the division called her bedroom. The sunburned, unconscious profile of Innes was close to her own. Pink and golden the head by the dark one. She looked younger even than Innes! Good humor returned to her.

"We are going to dine on the Delta tonight." She pinned up a "scolding lock," an ugly mishmash for her sunny clinging curls! The mirror was repositioned again. "That's the name of the new dredge. It was christened three weeks ago, in champagne brought from Yuma."

"You said dine on the Delta. Do you mean they have meals there?"

"You should see it," cooed Gerty. "It's simply elegant. It's a floating hotel, has every convenience. The camp cook, Ling, has his hands full."

"Going to wear that?" They were standing now by the door of Gerty's dressing tent. Over the bed a white lingerie gown was spread.

"I live in them. It's so hot," shrugged Mrs. Hardin.

"I'll look like your maid, Gerty?" Innes' exclamation was rueful. "I didn't bring anything but khakis. Oh, yes! I remember throwing in, the last minute two pliques to fill up space."

"Why, we have dances on the Delta, and Sunday evening concerts. You knew the work at Laguna dam is being held up? The government men of the Reclamation Service are down here all the time. But it's time to be getting ready."

Later, Tom flatly refused to accompany them.

"I thought as much," Gerty shrugged an airy irresponsibility. Innes could detect no regret.

They passed a cot outside the tent. "Who sleeps there?"

"Tom." The eyes of the two women did not meet.

Innes made no comment.

"He finds the tent stuffy." Gerty's lips were prim with reserve. They walked toward the river in silence. As they reached the encampment, Gerty recovered her vivacity.

"That's Mr. Rickard's office, that ramada. Isn't it quaint? And that's his tent, no, the other one. MacLean's is next; there's Junior, now."

But his eyes were too full of Innes to see Gerty's dimples. The difference in the quality of his greetings smote Gerty like a blow. And she had never considered Tom's sister attractive, as a possible rival. Yet, after a handshake, she saw that to MacLean, Jr., she did not exist.

Gerty was deeply piqued. Until now, the field had been hers. She might perhaps have to change her opinion of Tom's sister. Boys, she had to concede, the younger men, might find her attractive, boyishly congenial; older men would fail to see a charm!

The arrangement at table annoyed Gerty. The boss, MacLean explained gaily, would not be there for dinner. He might come in later. Two men from the Reclamation Service tried to entertain Mrs. Hardin.

"It isn't a battle," Innes looked around the gay rectangle. "It's play!"

The thought followed her that evening. Outside, where the moonlight was silverying the deck, and the quiet river lapped the sides of the dredge, Jose's strings, and his "amigo's" throbbed from a dark corner, made the illusion of peace convincing. This was no battle. It was easy to believe herself again at Mare island—the Delta a cruiser.
